For information. As you know I have been discussing with Janet what we can and cannot be said at the meeting and to individual MPs and she has suggested (and I assume that she has cleared this with James) that we just leave this as something to be dealt with as appropriate at the meeting. Sophie has added something to Paula's briefing about this.

Best wishes
Belinda

Hi Belinda

Thank you for the conversation we have just had. I think everyone understands the delicacy surrounding individual cases and the confidentiality which must surround them, please be assured of that. The point that ought to be emphasized from here is that MPs come at this from the point of view of their constituents rather than being concerned about the health of the enterprise. I am sure you know this, but it is worth stating.

How does the following suit as an email going out to all MPs from James as a reminder for the meeting? Let's just leave it brief, and everything can be discussed in the meeting itself. The timings were discussed by James and Paula in their phone call this week, but please confirm they are OK. We've spoken to Second Sight and to Alan, all of whom know and are comfortable with the fact that they are not speaking on behalf of the working group. To some extent, this is going to be a very dull meeting, which is absolutely fine.

Hope this suits!

Janet

Dear Mr Arbuthnot

I wanted to ensure you've seen a copy of the follow up email we've sent to MPs with an interest in the mediation scheme.

With best wishes

Jane Hill

As you are aware, the Post Office has established a mediation scheme to help resolve concerns raised by some sub postmasters. The scheme is being overseen by a Working Group, with an independent Chair (Sir Anthony Hooper, a former Appeal Court Judge), comprising representatives from Post Office, accountants Second Sight and JFSA.

You will have received an invitation from James Arbuthnot to a meeting on 24th March as well as an offer to meet with the Post Office individually to discuss the scheme.

Please do let me know if you have any questions or if you would like to meet with us (either before or after the 24th March) – we would be more than happy to do so.

Best wishes

Jane Hill
