

Thank you Tadge, for our phone conversation just now.

I would like to pencil in a pre-meeting meeting with James, here at Westminster, on 20 February at 11am. This will be to go over what Shoosmiths are doing with regard to the post office cases. James will be interested to learn what it is you think MPs can do to help. You will know that once solicitors are involved, unless they expressly give permission to MPs to become involved in their constituent's case, and have a role to play in helping, MPs must stand aside. This is one reason both meetings are important.

The larger meeting on 27 February at 2pm is for Shoosmiths, interested individuals affected by this matter, and constituency MPs, to discuss what is happening. In order to entice MPs along, it is important for the individuals you have listed on your spreadsheet to write to their MPs, giving details about the meeting, stating that they (the individual) will attend and asking their MP to do so as well. Could you possibly let me have a draft of this proposed letter, as I would like to use some of your wording in an email invitation we will send to MPs, which will come from James.

So, here are details which will help:

1. Meeting on 20 February at 11am

Will take place in James' office. This is in Portcullis House – the building directly opposite Big Ben, entrance faces the Thames. Come through security and ask staff to call me on extension GRO and I will come and collect you.

2. Meeting on 27 February at 2pm

Will take place in the Wilson Room, which is in Portcullis House - the building directly opposite Big Ben, entrance faces the Thames. People attending should allow 20 minutes to clear security, and staff will direct them to the Wilson Room.

Whenever I make arrangements, I must also mention the proviso that if by any chance, Parliamentary business intervenes, this must take priority, I am afraid. If this does happen, I will be in touch as soon as I can to rearrange these meetings.

Do let me know if you need anything else at this stage, and thanks once again for being so easy to deal with, Tadge.

Kind regards
Janet
