Dave,

Thanks for the heads up and thanks to you and James for taking this forward. It's really important that we retain the support of the NFSP on this.

Regards,

Kevin

The NFSP remain strong in their defence of Horizon so it was important that we maintain their support. We had a very open and honest session yesterday and the NFSP were very appreciative. We will be following this up with articles out via subpostmaster comms channels and further sessions with NFSP members and Fujitsu.

Thank you for the preparation, excellent slides, honest input and demonstrating the teamwork/partnership approach. Thanks also for keeping it simple(ish!).

It would be good to get an update from one of you by close of play next Tuesday as an initial progress indicator. Steve Beddoe and I meet with the NFSP again next Wednesday and it will be good to keep them on side by showing how committed we are to listening and responding to their feedback.
