Please find attached my comments on the SS draft report. I've embedded the comments in the pdf but if you would like these in a different format, please let me know.

In general, this report suffers the same problems as SS' previous reports – a lack of detail, evidence and justifications to back up some fairly sweeping conclusions. On the positive side, if this is the best points that SS can raise then there is little in here to concern POL. However, a report that is this poor will add very little, if anything, to the mediation process and may in fact confuse matters, making resolution more difficult.

David – as discussed earlier, I've given some thought to whether this report would be opposed by FJ, Camelot or BOI but there's insufficient substance I think to concern any of them. In fact, most of the challenges are directed at POL's processes rather than a core failure in the equipment provided by any of these companies.

Kind regards
Andy

Subject: Draft partial Second Sight thematic report

All,

Please find attached the partial draft thematic report produced by Second Sight. They have uploaded it for the purpose of showing the Working Group how difficult it is to produce.

We are reviewing now but wanted to circulate once aware.
