Dear Rodric,

I've just seen this and note the comment that, "we are not searching all of Jarnail's emails for relevant material". Whilst I have not seen any protocol agreed with the CCRC I was somewhat surprised given the position Jarnail occupied at POL.

In my experience section 17 notices require all documents etc to be provided and so I would advise that any protocol agreed with the CCRC be checked to determine whether this potential source of material has been expressly excluded.

Kind regards

Martin Smith

Rodric

I think when we respond to this section 17, it would be good to remind the CCRC of the documents we are providing and from which sources. The s17 notice require PO to provide ALL documents, being what I suspect is the CCRC's standard wording, but of course we have an agreed protocol of the classes of documents we are supplying. For example, we are not searching all of Jarnail's emails for relevant material.

Do you agree that it would be a good idea to remind them of this?
A
