I had a conversation with Adrian who is filling out the form required for me to sign off to get a Charging Order and he is going to raise a cheque etc.

Thereafter I had a telephone conversation with Mandy Talbot and confirmed that I had received her message and we would put in hand the obtaining of a Charging Order and I will keep you updated. Explaining that the advantage with bankruptcy is that the Trustee would probably be able to realise the property more quickly than we could because via a Charging Order route we would probably have to wait until the youngest child achieved the age of 18 and that could be many years. However, as Mandy pointed out, at least we would be getting some security that way and I agreed.

Also asking her about the article that I e-mailed her previously and she has it on her list and will come back to me.
