Good morning Angela

Please find attached an extract from the draft Defence which relates to the procedures and processes within Post Office. I have also attached a copy of the claim which Post Office is responding to and is referred to within the Defence.

Kath and Shirley have provided their comments on these sections and Gayle has signed off on the section relating to NBSC. However, it would be much appreciated if you could review the extract and provide any comments which you may have. In particular, if there are any points which are incorrect, please could you flag and explain these.

Apologies for the short notice, but would it be possible to complete this review by close of business on Tuesday, 11 June?

Kind regards

Amy

The advertisement is a horizontal banner with a dark blue background featuring a subtle pattern of concentric ripples. On the left, the headline "A new breed of transatlantic law firm" is written in a white, sans-serif font. Below it, the text "Find out more" is followed by a white right-pointing arrow. On the right side, the "Bond Dickinson" logo is displayed in a white, elegant script font. Below the logo, the "WOMBLE CARLYLE" logo is shown in a white, bold, sans-serif font, with a small white square graphic element to the right of the word "CARLYLE".
