Dear Brian

Firstly, I would like to thank you and your team for finding the time to meet us on Tuesday. We found the meeting to be really worthwhile, helpful and productive. We will circulate a note of the meeting shortly, just for everybody's record.

In the meantime, I attach a letter received on 7 June from Mr Castleton's solicitors. I have highlighted the two paragraphs that I would like you to have a quick look at. Basically they state the Horizon system is equipped with a facility via which its operating software can be updated remotely via the connection to the PO's head office and that the system sometimes went off line when there are software updates. They have therefore asked for documents relating to the updating of the software of the system. My view is that they are making a stab in the dark, but please could you ask your team whether they would have or could obtain any records of software updates?

I look forward to hearing from you as soon as possible.

Kind regards.
