John

Sorry for the delay in coming back to you. I cannot see that your marked up versions were attached and I wonder if I could trouble you to send again? I will then amend and hopefully send you back a final version for signing. If I have misread your email and your answers are in your email then I will retrieve the latest version from our system, make the necessary changes and then send a clean copy back to you (hopefully) for signing.

Stephen/ Julian

Both versions contain marked up areas for comment:-

I have detailed answers to the areas you have raised;-

(i) The branches receipts exceed payments by £15,300, this is the net result of all transactions and methods of payments.

- (ii) I can confirm that this customer deposited £16,500 in cash.
- (iii) The cash declaration should have been in the £49k+ range as the customer deposited £16.5 of physical cash.
- (iv) I have examined my records and can find no reference to the narrative of this section of my statement, at 24.
- (v) I do not have a copy of this letter, therefore I am unable to comment upon its contents.

Dear John,

I refer to my email of 2 December.

Counsel has now provided me with his comments on the latest draft of your statement. I attach a clean amended copy together with a marked up version showing the latest changes. Please could you read it through and email me the clean copy back with your comments on the questions I've asked in bold italics.

I will be away from the office to 9 to 29 December. Please could you copy in your reply to my colleague Julian Summerhayes (julian.summerhayes@GRO) (tel GRO). Julian is fully aware of this case and will be assisting Tom Beezer in my absence.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Kind regards.
