Thanks Avene.

The purpose of my call would be just to make sure that Paula is aware that my fellow Directors in Second Sight and I have recently become concerned, as it would also seem has Alan Bates along with several Applicants and their Professional Advisors, that the commitment made by Post Office, at the outset, to the Applicants and to the MPs is not being fulfilled. I shall be happy to explain if Paula would like me to. Of course it is likely that this risk factor has already been communicated to Paula by the legal team and, if so, then she may feel that there is no need for her to hear more about it from me.

Best regards,

Dear Ron,

Hope you are well.

As I mentioned last week, Paula was away on leave and on return she has a very full diary this week. However she has received your email and would be pleased to hear your views, but would be grateful if you could drop her note in the first instance to let her know specifically what you would like to discuss.

Many thanks and best regards,

Avene

Hello Paula: I left a message this morning with Belinda which doubtless you'll get when you return to your office. I'd like to take you up on your suggestion (last time we met) to call you if I saw the need to discuss any possible concerns. Until now, I've seen no need to do that as everything has been progressing in accordance with reasonable expectations. But it would, I think, now be worth us having a quick exchange of views - and no more than 5 minutes would be needed for that - in order to be sure we are all on the same page regarding the scheme. I shall be in my office (on [GRO]) practically all of the time (including through this weekend) and, if that number is busy, then [GRO] will probably not be... so feel free to call either number and then we won't be playing telephone tag. Alternatively, just get someone to let me know when I should call you. You may already have spoken directly with Sir Anthony Hooper, and perhaps also with Alan Bates, to check how they think the scheme is going. If not, you might care to do that.

Best regards,

Ron Warmington CFE, FCA
