Rodric is desperate. I explained the situation but he is under immense pressure from Chris who is under pressure from the CEO etc. etc. He insisted on getting anything so has asked for literally 5 headings in an email. I will send you something very shortly before you go to [REDACTED]

Just to let you know that Rodric now wants an outline of what we want from Deloitte by tonight. He is happy with a short 2 pager. I will get you something as soon as I can.
